RF REMOTE

LAKO

The LAKO is a remote control with an integrated HF transmitter which allows one or more products to be controlled remotely.

The interface offers a simplified navigation between several menus.

LAKO makes it possible to address the products in 4 distinct groups. They can be driven separately to allow you to manage the light in different spaces.

Whether your products are CCT Tunable white or RGB you can select a pre-programmed color (Preset) from a choice of 9 or select a specific color with the Color Wheel.
